Title	Author	Subject Area															Number/Page
		Education and Training	Accident Prevention	Health Care and Hospitals	Disease Prevention	Air Pollution	Water	Waste Handling	Land Use	Vector Control	Housing and Urban Problems	Food Sanitation	Industrial Hygiene	Noise	Administration	Politics
Analysis of Septic Tank Survival Data	John W. Clayton						X	X	X						X		6/562-567
Airborne Bacteria From an Activated Sludge Plant	King, Mill, Lawrence				X		X		X								1/50-54
Alternate Engine Types—Emission Standards	Lane Kirkpatrick					X									•	X	1/60-62
Approaches to Effective Reorganization	Larry Gordon														X	X	4/371-374
Association Sets Food Service Manager Certification As Top Priority	Bliss and Pohlit	X										X			X	X	3/259-260
Basic Dairy Microbiology and Quality Control	L. O. Luedecke											X					4/367-370
Cadmium-A Trace Element of Concern in Mining and Manufacturing	Doye B. Cox												X				4/361-363
California's Solid Waste Management Plan	Clayton Aurenheimer							X							X		2/124-128
CO Contamination of the Living Environment	Schaplowsky, et al.			X		X					X						6/569-573
The Case for Environmental Management At County Level	V. Harry Adrounie														X	X	5/490-491
Cholera in Naples, Italy	Miner, Stek and Ferris				X										X		4/329-332
Coliforms Are An Inadequate Index of Water Quality	B. J. Dutka				X		X										1/39-46
Community Noise Ordinances	Clifford R. Bragdon													X	X	X	4/313-328
Construction Equipment Noise Is Above	Gary Wayshak													X			2/147-151
Dairy Sanitation Technology	O. D. Moore											X					2/172-174
Disposal of Unwanted, Excess Pesticides and Empty Containers	E. Edsel Moore							X									3/238-243
England Controls Recreation Area Pollution	Reprinted from England's JEH				X		X	X	X						X		6/598-
Enforcement Provisions Needed for Restaurant Codes	Philip Block											X			X	X	3/244-246
Environmental Health Factors in Penal and Correctional Institutions	Gordon, Walker, and Valaer				X		X	X			X		X		X	X	3/270-275
Environmental Management at State Level	Harry Steigman														X	X	5/486-489
Environmental Staphlococci In A Newborn Nursery	Turner and Herbold			X	X												4/350-354
The Environmentalist's Role in Planning	Charles L. Senn														X	X	5/480-485
Evaluating Well Construction	Elmer E. Jones, Jr.						X				X						6/554-560

Title	Author	Subject Area															Number/Page
		Education and Training	Accident Prevention	Health Care and Hospitals	Disease Prevention	Air Pollution	Water	Waste Handling	Land Use	Vector Control	Housing and Urban Problems	Food Sanitation	Industrial Hygiene	Noise	Administration	Politics
Evaluation of Pseudomonas and Staphlococcus Aureus As Indicators of Bacteriological Quality of Swimming Pools	Palmquist and Jankow				X		X										3/230-232
An Evaluation of Sanitation in Kentucky Food Service Establishments Along Interstate Highways	Bell and Conyers											X					5/468-473
Family Planning Is Related to Environmental Health	Jerry M. Johnson	X														X	1/35-37
Foodborne Disease Hazards	Frank L. Bryan											X					6/537-539
Growth and the Environment	John A. Love								X							X	2/152-153
A Guide to Assistance in Penal and Correctional Institutions	Walker and Gordon														X	X	3/276-277
Industrial Cross Connections	Gary D. Hutchinson						X						X				2/175-178
An Instrument for Evaluating Competencies of Environmental Health Interns and Practitioners	Herman Koren	X													X		2/134-141
The Interaction of Man and Environment in Accidental Fire and Burns	Richard E. Gallagher		X	X													3/221-224
Lead Risk, An Environmental Study	Michael Stek, Jr., MD		X		X						X		X				4/364-366
Leptospirosis May Result From Swimming in Lakes and Streams	D. A. Schiemann				X		X										1/70-73
Medical Aspects of Burns	William Berman, MD			X													3/217-220
Mercury Handling Outlined by U.S. Navy	Navy Bulletin												X				3/247
Mercury Levels in Fish from the Connecticut River	DiNardi, MacDonald and Wisnieski				X							X					6/547-551
Microbiological Standards for Foods	NEHA Position Paper				X							X					4/382-383
Needs In A Sanitarian Internship Program	Amer El Ahraf	X													X		2/130-133
New Communications Needed Between Environmental Protection Agencies	Emil T. Chanlett														X	X	1/30-34
New York State Consumer Product Safety Law			X												X	X	4/397-399
New York State Leads Injury Control	Leslie Fisher		X												X	X	3/213-216
New Orleans Rids Docks of Rats	Alvin Werkheiser				X					X					X		3/234-236
Our Energetic Environment	Scott A. Miller															X	4/393-394

Title	Author	Subject Area															Number/Page
		Education and Training	Accident Prevention	Health Care and Hospitals	Disease Prevention	Air Pollution	Water	Waste Handling	Land Use	Vector Control	Housing and Urban Problems	Food Sanitation	Industrial Hygiene	Noise	Administration	Politics
Pigeon Control Is Possible	Thomas J. Dalton	X			X					X					X		1/79-80
Practical Problems in Stopping On-The-Job Noise Pollution	Robert D. Moran												X	X			6/589-593
Prediction Models Are Basis for Rational Air Quality Control	Daniels and Bach					X			X						X	X	1/55-59
Prime Time for Food Poisoning	Robert Englis	X			X							X					5/476
Problem Areas in Restaurants	Paul Taloff											X			X		3/286
Registration Acts Compiled	Martin Winston														X	X	2/166-167
Restaurant Sanitation—A New Approach	Walter J. Hinckley											X			X		5/449-466
Rodent Control Is Necessary for Food Protection	Irving Bell									X		X					1/75-77
Sanitary Problems in an Underdeveloped Country	J. Richard Gorham				X		X	X		X	X	X					4/347-349
The Sanitarian in Industrial Hygiene Field Work	Paul Taloff	X											X		X	X	2/169-171
School Noise and Its Control	Larry D. Ikenberry		X										X	X	X		5/493-498
Septic Tank Performance	C. H. Lawrence						X		X								3/226-228
Size Distribution of Particulate Benzo(a)pyrene	Starkey and Warpinski				X	X							X				5/503-505
Solid Waste Management Terminology Applicable to Health Care Facilities	Frank D. Arnold, Ph.D.			X				X									6/586-588
Some Legal Considerations Involved in Environmental Impact Reports	Henry A. Dietz															X	6/582-584
Space Program Benefits to Society	Alan B. Shepard															X	1/11-13
Special Guidelines for Operating a Sanitary Landfill	Joseph W. Hunt							X	X						X		3/113-123
Technical Advances in Cleaning Food Service Operations	Robert Englis											X	X				6/541-542
A Specific Approach to Housing Problems in Urbanized Counties	George E. Lynch										X					X	5/499-502
Training Fits Sanitarians for Jobs	Richard L. Roberts	X													X		6/544-545
Transportation Controls Can Help	Lane Kirkpatrick					X			X						X	X	3/283-284
The U.S. Air Force Environmental Health Program	Larry L. Testerman	X	X		X	X	X	X		X		X	X		X		2/143-145
The U.S. and Environmental Pollution Control	Vaun A. Newill, MD																4/334-346
Use Referral Process for Coordinated Environmental and Land Use Decisions	Kirkpatrick, Weiner and Shanfelt								X						X	X	5/508-511
Water Pollution Control Authority—The Texas Way	Gregg C. Waddill						X								X	X	4/356-359
What Is the Cholera Risk in the U.S.	Oregon PH Bulletin					X											6/575-577
Where Are We Going in Environmental Health	John Todd															X	5/478-479